Craig Cruikshank is originally from British Columbia, having lived in Vancouver for much of the past two decades. Craig is currently working as a marketing manager at TELUS, and has recently received a Master's degree in Business Administration from Queen's University. Over the years Craig has volunteered and worked with a number of non-profit organizations supporting individuals with mental and physical disabilities, adults and youth in crisis situations and HIV+ and at-risk individuals, which included a short term as a board member with AIDS Vancouver before relocating to Calgary. As a person living with HIV for many years, Craig has been inspired to help fight the stigma of HIV and AIDS.
