

HIV COMMUNITY LINK

Lindsay Skabar has been working for the past 7 years for a communications infrastructure company, Axia. Her professional role is Director of Communications in North America, the leader of marketing and communications activities in Alberta and Massachusetts. Lindsay's formal education is in Marketing for Non-Profit Organizations and she has spent many years abroad and locally dedicated to making a difference through a number of organizations. Lindsay's experience in Africa, Asia and Australia with people affected and infected by HIV/AIDS will ensure that she is a life-long advocate for this important cause. Lindsay has been volunteering on the Board of HIV Community Link for the past 4 years.
