

HIV COMMUNITY LINK

Susan Wills was born in Sydney, Australia but left in 1994 to explore the world. She has since lived in Chile, the USA, Canada and Malaysia, finally returning to Calgary again in 2010. Sue has worked both in the private sector and with community organizations, and in between all the travel completed a Masters in International and Community Development. Sue has been working with Talisman Energy both in Malaysia and Canada since 2006 in variety of roles including developing and implementing corporate responsibility programs, business performance management and most recently working to develop a consistent change management approach within the organization. Sue hopes to leverage this experience to assist the HIV Community Link team to reposition and strengthen its brand and role in the community. She still enjoys travelling as well as surviving triathlons, hiking, food and wine.
